

UCB Women's Health Fellowship Program

Thank you for your interest in UCB's Women's Health Fellowship Program. By creating additional training opportunities for current rheumatology fellows, UCB aims to increase women's health expertise in the rheumatology community. This program will support the yearlong training ($100,000) of one rheumatology fellow with a specialized focus on women's health-related issues, specifically in the context of inflammatory diseases. UCB will provide sponsorship through the institute of training. The institution receiving support from this program will select a second-year rheumatology fellow with interest in pursuing an additional year of study focused on the care of women with inflammatory diseases.
